Capital Harvest on the Plaza (CHoP) Market Opens for Ninth Season

Fresh, local produce and goods available at the Reagan Building beginning Friday, May 19

Washington, DC (May 8, 2017) – Capital Harvest on the Plaza (CHoP) opens for its ninth season on Friday, May 19, offering a wide range of locally grown fruits and vegetables, flowers, specialty foods and baked goods from 32 vendors.

A popular downtown destination, the market is open Fridays spring through fall from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the corner of 13th Street and Pennsylvania Ave, NW at the Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center.

Located on the Woodrow Wilson Plaza, CHoP offers downtown DC market-goers, interested in healthy eating and cooking with fresh ingredients, the opportunity to connect with local farmers and artisans selling fresh fruits and vegetables, nuts and meats, gourmet coffee beans, teas, juices, granola, olive oils, vinegars, sauces, spices, and much more.

New vendors to the market this year include Arepa Zone, Barnola, Bun'd Up, El Tenedor de Nacho, Favor Ceylon Tea, Green Almond Pantry, Mechelle's Baking Company, Chups, She Peppers, Senzu Juicery, Captain Cookie and the Milkman and Cabin Hill Farm.

“Part of our mission at the Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center is to create a space where locals and visitors can gather and experience the best of what our city and local region has to offer,” said John P. Drew President and CEO of TCMA. “Capital Harvest on the Plaza is a great way to bring our community together to enjoy locally-produced foods while also introducing cuisines from around the world.”

CHoP's mission is to foster a strong sense of community, stimulate economic development, and improve the quality of life for market-goers by providing local, sustainably sourced food and products. CHoP is sponsored by TCMA (A Drew Company), the exclusive manager of the Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center.
